Inheritance

Delta Olympic's daughters are tall, framey cows with a lot of capacity and wide sloping rumps. With a straighter than average leg set, they have very good locomotion and their quality udders are high in the rear with strong ligaments and ideal front teat placement. Furthermore, Olympic is a reliable calving ease bull.

General information

Soon Olympic was a well-known name among farmers. From his debut in November 2004 he had calf vitality (direct and maternal). Also as a sire of sons Olympic is in charge. He scores very well in the CRV index, not in the least because he stands out in points like body condition score and rump angle.

Testimonial 1

Johan Knobbe, Gersloot (NL) owns an Olympic daughter from the test period, Aukje 134. Knobbe: 'She is my best cow, which inspires me to use Olympic. Olympic calves are born easily, they are big and vital, easy to handle. For me they are ideal calves.'

Testimonial 2

Koos Kooijman from Appelscha (NL): 'What appeals to me in Olympic is his completeness; he fits to almost all my cows. Moreover, easy calving and character are also important for me. I don't want trouble. A good start is important for all sides: for the calf, the cow and for the farmer as well. With Olympic my enthusiasm grew.'

Testimonial 3

Leoncida Medina Caballero, Spain, has used around 30 Olympic doses. 'Now I have eight Olympic daughters, two are about to calve for a second time, two have just calved, three are in the waiting barn to calve and I sold one together with other heifers. Olympic is a bull that has fulfilled what I expected from him, that has confirmed his proof. I used him to get more size on the front. Olympic is a bull with functional and profitable daughters without problems. Best daughter characteristics include good udders, feet and legs. Very good in udder health and low in somatic cells. They have good temperament and very good fertility. I also have to emphasise that they exceed their mothers in the main traits.'
